Art + Space

If you can imagine it,
we can design it.

ART + SPACE

Your walls should tell your story.

For your home or commercial office, you see the art in place before we make it.

Art + Space brings that idea to life. Janice walks your home or commercial office with you, talks through what the space could be, and sees it through until the last piece is hung.

From an idea to a finished space.

ART + SPACE

One designer, one artist and our own frame shop.

Art and design for homes and commercial office spaces.

DESIGNS

Sharjah Brand Knew

The Sharjah Brand Knew design team creates custom work for your space, guiding each home and office project with over 40 years of experience.

MURALS

Amanda Rogers

Murals and painted finishes for homes and commercial spaces, from a reception wall or conference room to the side of a building.

FRAMES, BUILDS, INSTALLS

Barry Framing

The frame shop on Broadway. Custom framing, canvas, metal, acrylic and wood, built by hand and installed by the shop's own crew.

Home Art Plan Sample

DINING ROOM

Antique maps in matching black frames, with museum mats and UV glass.

POWDER ROOM

Custom mural or custom printed wall covering, installed wall to wall.

STAIRWAY

Family photographs, a christening gown and children's art framed as one gallery.

KITCHEN

Texas on printed wood rounds, made for this wall.

LIVING ROOM

A Hill Country landscape over the mantel in a gilded frame.

SCREENING ROOM

Custom designed and framed portrait canvas art installed above the seating area.

Commercial Art Plan Sample

CORRIDOR

Historic product canvas art, custom designed and displayed along an office hallway.

RECEPTION

A company's history in acrylic prints, presented on a stone lobby wall.

BREAK ROOM

An installation in progress, with the crew setting each piece.

OFFICE

Custom art on birch wood with a metal overlay featuring Texas imagery.

CONFERENCE ROOM

Company heritage, designed as a series of tall printed metal panels.

OPEN HUDDLE SPACE

A company history with vintage photographs layered over an antique map.

How it works.

Five steps, and you see it first.

A home tells a family's story. An office tells a company's story. The right art makes either space feel like it belongs to you.

We listen, plan, create, frame and install. You approve the design, materials and cost along the way.

1 | Meet

Janice walks your home or office with you and listens: what you love, what you have, and how you live or work. For offices, we also discuss your brand, staff and visitors.

2 | See

Your own walls, shown with the art in place, with a plan for each piece, its size, its finish and its price. For an office, we consider each room's purpose and your brand.

3 | Make

Art we find, art we commission, or pieces created from your family story, company archives or local roots. You approve every proof.

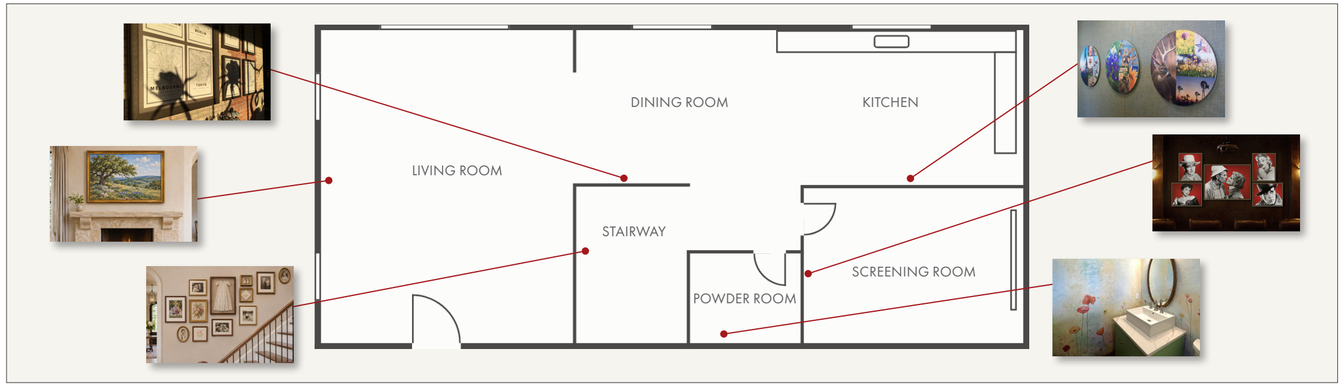

4 | Frame

Built at Barry Framing: custom frames, canvas, metal, acrylic, wood panels and plaques, chosen to suit your home or commercial interior.

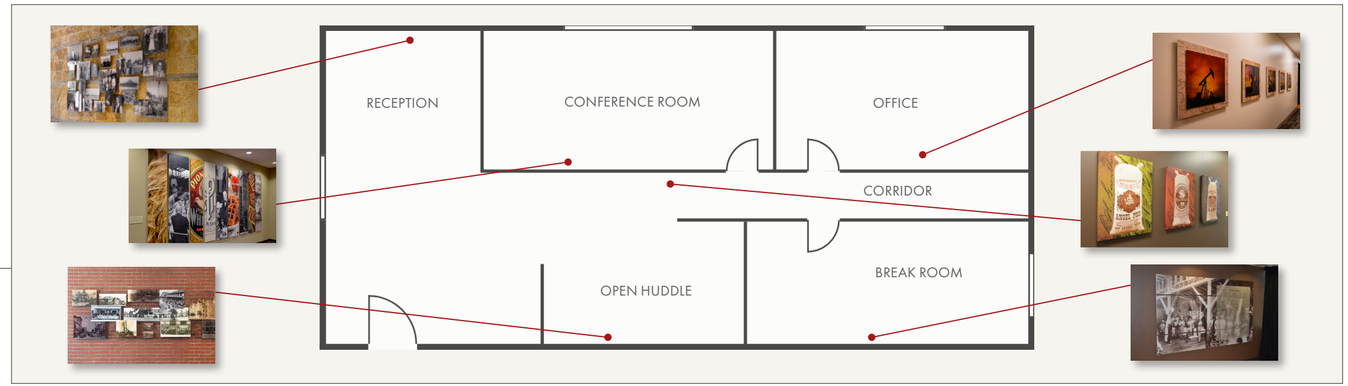

5 | Hang

The crew installs and levels each piece where Janice planned it. For offices, we coordinate timing and access with your team, so the space is ready to use.

A Family Home | SAMPLE ART LOCATIONS

A Commercial Office | SAMPLE ART LOCATIONS

See it on your walls before it exists.

One room or a whole floor: each location is numbered, with the artwork, size, material, framing and price recorded in your plan. Then we show it on your own walls. A home plan follows the way you live. An office plan considers your brand, staff, visitors and shared spaces.

Murals

When a frame isn't big enough.

Amanda Rogers paints the big ones:
feature walls for homes, office reception areas,
conference rooms, gyms and building exteriors.

Hand painted in your colors, with a sketch first, so the mural works with the rest of the room and the identity of the space.

ART + SPACE

Every surface, one shop.

A living room in canvas. A lobby in metal. A company story in printed panels. Choose the mix that fits your home or office.

CUSTOM FRAMING

Mouldings, mats and glazing chosen for your art and space.

GALLERY CANVAS

Stretched in our shop for a home, reception area or office.

WOOD AND ACRYLIC

Clean, modern displays for homes and commercial interiors.

BIRCH WOOD

Panels, rounds and custom shapes, printed directly on birch wood.

WALL COVERINGS

Made to fit feature walls at home or in the workplace.

PLAQUES

Family stories, company milestones and recognition on metal.

HISTORY SIGNS

Personal and company archives, restored and displayed.

MURALS

Painted by Amanda Rogers for homes, offices and beyond.

Where we work.

Spaces people remember.

AT HOME	AT WORK
Living and dining rooms	Commercial office suites
Entries and stairways	Reception areas and lobbies
Studies and libraries	Meeting rooms and boardrooms
Primary suites	Private offices and corridors
Guest houses and ranches	Open and shared workspaces
Family and media rooms	Company history walls

Also: restaurants, hospitality, medical and wellness spaces.

Let's talk about your space.

Three ways to begin.

One space

START WITH ONE ROOM

A living room, reception area, conference room or whichever room matters most to you. Janice designs original art for that space, shows you how it will look on your own walls before anything is made, and sees it through to the finished artwork and installation.

The entire home or office

ONE COORDINATED PLAN

Your whole house, office suite or an entire floor, planned together. Janice maps out where each piece goes so every room has its own character, while color, scale and story carry naturally from one space to the next, all the way through installation.

Your story

ONE IDEA, MADE FOR YOU

A custom piece or collection drawn from your family, your company, your local roots or your history. Janice starts by listening, gathering the names, places, photographs and milestones that matter, and turns them into original artwork that could only belong to you.

Questions we hear.

Straight answers.

One designer. One shop. One crew.

Design, production and installation all stay in one set of hands, from the first conversation to the final piece on the wall.

For homes and commercial offices, the process starts with listening.

Can I see the design first?

Yes, always. Before anything is made, we show you photos of your own walls with the proposed art in place, so you can judge the scale, color and placement against your furniture and light. We adjust until it feels right, and only then move to production.

Can you use art we already own?

Absolutely, and we often recommend it. Pieces you already love can be reframed, regrouped or moved to a wall where they shine. Then we plan new work around them, so old and new feel like one collection, whether it's at home or in your office.

Can you make something custom?

Yes, and it's often the most meaningful work we do. Family photographs, local landmarks, company archives, a beloved place or a founding story can become original art, designed and made for your space, something no one else will have on their walls.

What does it cost?

Design is a set fee, agreed before we begin. Your plan then lists every piece with its art and framing price, room by room, so you see the full cost and approve it before anything goes into production. You won't get any surprises once the work is underway.

How does an office project begin?

With a walk-through. We tour the space with you and talk about your brand, the people who work there and the visitors you welcome. From there, we agree on which rooms to include, a working budget and who signs off, so the project runs smoothly from the start.

Can you plan an entire office?

Yes. From reception and conference rooms to private offices, hallways and shared areas, we create one coordinated plan so the whole space feels intentional. Then we schedule installation around your team, so the work gets done with as little disruption as possible.

Meet Janice Black.

Design is what she's done for more than forty years.

Janice listens first. She designs around how people live and work, learning what matters to them, and brings the same care to a family home or a commercial office.

One designer

Janice leads every project personally, from the first conversation to the final piece on the wall, so nothing gets lost in a handoff.

A real shop

Framing is done at Barry Framing on Broadway, a local shop you can visit, not shipped off to a factory. Janice has worked with Barry Framing for 11 years.

A real artist

Painter Amanda Rogers creates original canvases and custom murals for interior and exterior walls that need something larger or one of a kind.

A real crew

Our own installers hang each piece level, secure and exactly where it was planned, at home or in the office.

You see it first

Before anything is made, you see your own walls with the art in place, presented in a custom art plan, so every decision is made with confidence.

ART + SPACE

Art for the way you live.
Art for the way you work.
